Kamakura is a city compact enough to look around on foot. It would be nice to take a walk before and/or after our workshop. We can introduce you to some shrines, temples and traditional craft shops you might be interested in.

About FabLab Kamakura

Kamakura is considered a highlight amongst historical cities in Japan, where you can still feel the atmosphere of traditional culture. FabLab Kamakura is located in a renovated 125 year old sake warehouse. It is a traditional wooden structure built using ancient joinery techniques. FabLab Kamakura has been working to combine advanced technology with region-rooted tradition to make a new culture. We are studying and practicing a new way of learning that will hopefully open up new possibilities for the future.
